

Policy Surveillance Conference – January 18-19, 2018

We will begin each day in Room 222 at Temple University's Center City Campus (TUCC), located at 1515 Market Street in Philadelphia.

Thursday, January 18

TIME	ACTIVITY
10:00-10:45	Icebreaking Agenda Setter Introductions and Key Points to Cover
10:45-11:50	Purposes of Policy Surveillance: Producers Meet Users
12:15-1:45	Working Lunch: Research Methods
1:45-3:00	Quality Control
3:00-3:15	Break
3:15-4:00	Dissemination
4:00-5:15	Technology and Visualization
5:15-7:00	Shift to Tomorrow's Topics and Wrap-Up Reception

Friday, January 19

TIME	ACTIVITY
8:30-9:00	Working Breakfast: Regroup, Reflect, Plan Breakout groups review Thursday's results and propose topics/activities/presentations for today
9:00-10:00	Field-Building Discussion and Activities
10:00-10:15	Break
10:15-11:00	Unfinished Business
11:00-12:00	What's Next Discussion, prioritization, and concluding words
12:00-1:00	Working Lunch Going forward and sharing our conference findings and progress

This conference was supported by an R13 grant from the National Institute of Drug Abuse to the Center for Public Health Law Research, and has been coordinated by Scott Burris, JD, Director of the Center for Public Health Law Research at Temple University, in conjunction with an organizing committee consisting of Kathryn Herron, President and CEO for CDM Group; and Matthew Penn, JD, MLIS, Director of the CDC Public Health Law Program. We also thank CDM Group for their support of Thursday's break and evening reception.